Josephine County

Jail Levy Renewal

This is Not a New Tax

Same 93 Cents per Thousand Dollars of Assessed Property Value

We've Been Paying Since 2017

A jail without stable funding risks becoming a revolving door, and an un-funded juvenile facility leaves vulnerable youth without local rehabilitation. Before voters approved the levy in 2017, the jail was close to dropping to 95 beds & the Juvenile Justice Center had already been closed for five years.

Inflation has reduced the buying power of the 93-cent levy, but commissioners say the renewal is workable because the county now has more property owners and a stronger budget than in 2017.
